

The Mobsmen from Oslo are proud traditionalists of real surf music and their sound brings forth memories of early classic surf bands like Original Surfaris, Fender IV, The Pyramids, The Sudells and Eddie & the Showmen.

These boys play surf like it was done in big ballrooms in Southern California about 1963; intense yet swinging with super-energetic thundering drums, thumping bass and guitars drenched in reverb.

They have earlier released the album Scelerats Syndicate (2009) on Double Crown Records, but in 2012 they have performed and acted(!) in the rock'n'roll action comedy 4-5-6 Feet Below, including two new tunes for the soundtrack. These two tracks now are released as the single Le Mans/Wavy's Revenge which is out on Big H Records in all digital formats across the globe + on a tempting 7" vinyl...

For more info:

www.themobsmen.com

or www.facebook.com/themobsmen

Webpage for the film: www.456feetbelow.com

Pictures: www.themobsmen.com/press/the_mobsmen_pictures.zip

